Let's Start!

Halloween is a very busy time!

Learning Outcome

Describe complicated or unusual events in the past through a wider range of B1 language in both work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What do you think about Halloween? Is it popular in your country?
- What costume would you like to wear to a Halloween party?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about manners, customs and superstitions.
- I can talk about things I was supposed to do and things that were supposed to happen.
- I can talk about hypothetical situations.

Let's Explore!

Sally donated pumpkins to a local charity for Halloween.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Terri from Boston asks, "Yesterday, I grabbed an umbrella and opened it inside and one of my friends freaked out saying I was not supposed to do that because it is bad luck. Why?" Terri,

If I knew the answer, I would tell you. Unfortunately, I didn't have time to research this topic because I was just too busy. I was supposed to read a bunch of e-mails this week, but I had to get fitted for my Halloween costume.

I was also supposed to decorate my house for Halloween and I was supposed to get the decorations from a friend, but he went out of town on business. So, I had to go buy my own. If we weren't good friends, I would be angry at him. I always said if I won the lottery, I would buy a big house and now that I have one, it takes a long time to decorate. Then, I had to carve some pumpkins.

My dad and I were supposed to do it on Tuesday, but he was feeling sick, so I had to do all twenty of them myself. Why twenty? Again, I said if I had a lot of money, I would buy a lot of pumpkins and donate them to a local charity. Unfortunately, the charity didn't want to carve them. So, I had to do it and it took up a lot of time. If they weren't a charity for kids, I would be more upset.

Sorry, Terri.

Let's Practice!

Sometimes, life gets in the way of what you were supposed to do.

Instructions: Match the sentences in Column A with the sentences in Column B to correctly complete each statement.

COLUMN A

1. I was supposed to read a bunch of e-mails yesterday
2. I was supposed to get the decorations from my friends
3. My dad and I were supposed to carve the pumpkins
4. I wasn't supposed to open my umbrella indoors
5. I was supposed to get my Halloween costume fitted

COLUMN B

- a. but he was sick so I had to carve them all myself.
- b. so now my friend is freaking out.
- c. but he went out of town on business.
- d. because it was too big when I got it.
- e. but my computer stopped working.

Let's Practice!

A lot of things could happen on Halloween.

Instructions: Choose the words from the Word Bank to correctly complete the sentences.

1. If I carved all these pumpkins by myself, it would _____.
2. If I won the lottery, I would _____ for the kids' charity.
3. If there weren't a charity for kids, I would _____.
4. If I knew the answer to your question, I would _____.
5. If we weren't good friends, I would be _____ now.

Word Bank

- happy for him

Target Words

- to grab (verb): to take hold of something or someone suddenly e.g. Yesterday, I grabbed an umbrella and opened it inside.
- to freak out (phrasal verb): to become extremely emotional e.g. I opened an umbrella inside and one of my friends freaked out.
- bunch (noun): a number of things of the same type e.g. I was supposed to read a bunch of emails this week.
- fitted (adjective): made to fit the shape of someone or something e.g. I had to get fitted for my Halloween costume.
- to carve (verb): to cut into the surface of stone, wood, a pumpkin, meat, etc.
e.g. I had to carve some pumpkins.

- charity (noun): a system of giving money, food, or help to those who are in need e.g. If I had a lot of money, I would buy a lot of pumpkins and donate them to a local charity.

Learning Points

Be Supposed to

To talk about expectations, obligations or arrangements we can use the structure be supposed to. Be supposed to is used to talk about situations in the past, present or future.

This is the structure:

subject + to be + supposed to + verb

You were supposed to carve the pumpkin yesterday.

I was supposed to buy a costume last week.

Examples:

- I was supposed to decorate my house last week.
- You were supposed to help me carve pumpkins.
- I was supposed to buy a Halloween costume.
- They were supposed to go dancing.

Learning Points

Conditional Sentences with If Clause

You use the first conditional with if clauses to exchange opinions about possible future outcomes, and to say it's possible that you will or will not do something.

You use the second conditional to exchange opinions about unreal or imaginary (hypothetical) situations in the future, when there is no certainty that it's possible to fulfill the condition.

For example:

If I won the lottery, I would buy a house.

Do you have a million dollars? No.

Is it possible to suddenly get a million dollars? Not really.

What would you do if you had a million dollars? Buy a car.

First Conditional:	First Conditional: 2nd Clause	Meaning
If I finish carving pumpkins,	I'll go to your house for dinner tonight.	It's possible that I can go to dinner tonight, but only if I finish carving pumpkins.
Second Conditional: If ... + Simple Past	Second Conditional: would + base verb	Result
If I won the lottery,	I would buy a big house	It is impossible and can only happen in a hypothetical situation.

Examples:

- If we weren't good friends, I would be angry at him.
- If I had a lot of money, I would buy a lot of pumpkins and donate them.
- If they weren't a charity for kids, I would be more upset.
- If I had a lot of money, I would donate money to charity.
