

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

What is your favorite holiday?

Learning Outcome

Describe complicated or unusual events in the past through a wider range of B1 language in both work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What is your favorite holiday? Why?
- During this holiday, what do people usually do?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about manners, customs and superstitions.
- I can talk about things I was supposed to do and things that were supposed to happen.
- I can talk about hypothetical situations.

Let's Explore!

Sally talks about breaking the wishbone at Thanksgiving.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

I love Halloween. It is my favorite time of the year, but it is not for everyone. Halloween was loved by my mom, but she has recently changed her opinion. For my mom, Halloween has become too commercial.

If my mom could choose only one holiday to enjoy for the rest of her life, she would choose Thanksgiving. My mom enjoys it when the family and friends get together and share a big meal. She loves to cook, which is good, because I don't. Last year, I was supposed to cook mashed potatoes and I was supposed to make the cranberry sauce, two dishes my family loves to eat. However, I made a mess of both dishes so badly that my mom had to recook them. Everything tasted amazing though, as always. If I had one meal left to eat in my life, I would choose my mom's Thanksgiving dinner.

Now, Thanksgiving has its own superstition and that is the breaking of the wishbone. In my parent's house, the breaking of the wishbone is a family tradition. The rules are simple; each person grabs an end and gives a yank. If you get the bigger piece, your wish will be granted. Participants are always selected by my mother. I was supposed to play this year, but my mother disallowed it. I guess I've had enough good luck recently. Instead, my little cousin won. His wish: "If I had one wish, I would wish it to be Thanksgiving every day." A perfect wish.

Let's Practice!

Is your Thanksgiving anything like this one?

Instructions: Read the text again. Select all the correct answers.

1. Halloween ...
 - a) ____ was love by my mom.
 - b) ____ was loving by my mom.
 - c) ____ was loved by my mom.
 - d) ____ was celebrated by my whole family.
 - e) ____ was celebration by my whole family.
2. In order to participate in our Thanksgiving tradition, ...
 - a) ____ participants are always selection by my mother.
 - b) ____ participants are always selected by my mother.
 - c) ____ participation is always selected by my mother.
 - d) ____ the wishbone is broken amongst the participants.
 - e) ____ the wishbone is breaking the participants.

Let's Practice!

Celebrations are always full of possibilities!

Instructions: Draw a line to match the words in Column A with the ones and in Column B. Read them aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

COLUMN A

1. If my mom could choose only one holiday,
2. If I had one meal left to eat in my life,
3. If my cousin had one wish,
4. If I get the bigger piece of the bone,
5. If my mom selected me to play this year,

COLUMN B

- a. it would be to celebrate Thanksgiving every day.
- b. it would be Thanksgiving.
- c. I would choose my mom's Thanksgiving dinner.
- d. I would have a chance at breaking the wishbone.
- e. my wish will be granted.

Extension Activity

What is your favorite holiday?

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write about your favorite holiday.
- Answer these questions: What is it? When is it? What do people usually do? Is there any special food? Is it a day off work/school?
- Write down your answers.
- Make a short 4-minute presentation about your holiday.
- Present your holiday to a group of classmates.
- Have them ask the 5 questions while you answer.
- Have classmates write down the details of your answers.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I talk about manners, customs and superstitions.

☐ ☐

I organize information in an interesting form.

☐ ☐

I talk about things I was supposed to do and things that were supposed to happen.

☐ ☐

I present information clearly.

☐ ☐

I listen for the gist of what is being said.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- commercial (adjective): related to buying and selling things
e.g. For my mom, Halloween has become too commercial.
- to get together (verb): to gather or assemble e.g. My mom enjoys it when family and friends get together and share a big meal.
- mashed potatoes (noun): potatoes that have been boiled and crushed until they are smooth e.g. Last year, I was supposed to cook mashed potatoes.
- cranberry sauce (noun): a sauce made from a small, round, red fruit with a sour taste
e.g. I was supposed to make the cranberry sauce.
- instead (adverb): in place of someone or something else
e.g. Instead, my little cousin won.
- to yank (verb): to pull something forcefully with a quick movement e.g. The rules are simple; each person grabs an end and gives a yank.
- to disallow (verb): to say officially that something cannot be accepted because it has not been done in the correct way e.g. I was supposed to play this year, but my mother disallowed it.
- participant (noun): a person who takes part in or becomes involved in a particular activity
e.g. Participants are always selected by my mother.
- wishbone (noun): the V-shaped bone between the neck and breast of a cooked bird
e.g. Thanksgiving has its own superstition and that is the breaking of the wishbone.

Learning Points

Be Supposed to

The structure be supposed to is used to talk about expectations, obligations or arrangements.

You can use be supposed to, in past, present or future.

The structure is:

subject + to be + supposed to + verb

You weren't supposed to make the cranberry sauce.

I was supposed to cook the turkey.

*Pronunciation tip:

When you say supposed to, you link the /d/ and /t/ sounds together.

Like this:

Be suppose_to

Examples:

- I wasn't supposed to cook the mashed potatoes.
- You were supposed to make a wish.
- I was supposed to play this year.
- I wasn't supposed to participate.

Conditional Sentences with If Clause

The first conditional with if clauses is used to exchange opinions about possible future outcomes.

The second conditional is used to exchange opinions about unreal or imaginary (hypothetical) situations in the future.

In conditionals, we have two clauses: the if clause and the condition clause. When the if clause is the first part of the sentence, write a comma before the condition clause.

To say that something is possible, use the first conditional (will or will not do something). In that condition, something else may, may not, will, or will not happen.

Learning Points

You use the second conditional to talk about unreal or hypothetical situations. There is no certainty that it's possible to fulfill the condition.

For example:

If I had a million dollars, I would buy a car.

Do you have a million dollars? No.

Is it possible to suddenly get a million dollars? Not really.

What would you do if you had a million dollars? Buy a car.

First Conditional:	First Conditional: 2nd Clause	Meaning
If I finish work today,	I'll come to the dinner tonight.	It's possible that I can go to the dinner tonight, but only if finish working first.

Second Conditional: If ... + Simple Past	Second Conditional: would + base verb	Result
If I had one meal left to eat in my life,	I would choose my mom's Thanksgiving dinner.	It is an impossible situation and can only happen in a hypothetical situation.

Examples:

- If my mom could only choose one holiday to enjoy for the rest of her life, she would choose Thanksgiving.
- If I had one wish, I would wish it to be Thanksgiving everyday.

